REFORMASI HUKUM

Volume 28 • Number 1 • April Edition • 2024

Legal Reform in Strengthening Protection, Accountability, and Regulatory Frameworks Across Key Sectors in Indonesia

SUMMARY

This edition explores legal reforms to strengthen protection, accountability, and regulatory frameworks across key sectors in Indonesia. Topics include legal protection for female workers against sexual exploitation, environmental liability under the 'polluter pays principle,' and enforcement against money laundering in the capital market. It also addresses challenges in consumer protection from illegal medicines in e-commerce, the collection of land acquisition fees, and the effectiveness of constitutional supervision. Additionally, it discusses the validity of electronic stamps in e-commerce transactions and the harmonization of state receivables management, emphasizing the need for comprehensive legal reforms.
